RICHMOND NEGRO SHOT WHITE MAN

At Crap Game and Chicken Fight at Shakertown—Claims Crowd "Jumped on" Him

Owen Walker, a well known local negro soft drink and pool room proprietor on Irvine street, is in jail at Harrodsburg, charged with shooting a young white man named Roy Robertson, 22, perhaps fatally, during a crap game near Shakertown, Mercer county, Tuesday night. Walker's wife went over Wednesday to see him, and it is understood that several white friends and an attorney will go over Thursday to look after his interests.

An Associated Press dispatch gave the first public news of the affair Wednesday afternoon. Walker, in company with two well known white men and another colored man, is said to have motored over to a big chicken fight in Mercer county. The fight was held in a tobacco barn and soon afterwards a number of the spectators who wanted "quicker action" on their money began a crap game in another barn nearby, and in this barn the trouble began.

Walker's story is said to be that a number of white men "jumped on" him when he asked for a glass to drink out of, and that they were "beating him up" when he pulled a gun and shot. He is 65 years old, but a powerful negro. The "festivities" are said to have adjourned in short order and the crowd to have scattered to the four winds immediately after the shooting. The Lexington Herald had a dispatch from Harrodsburg giving fuller details of the affair than the A. P. dispatch had Wednesday afternoon. It said:

Roy Robertson, 22 years old, is believed to be dying with a bullet wound in the abdomen, and Owen Walker, 65, negro pool room proprietor of Richmond, is in jail here charged with the shooting as the result of quarrel at a chicken fight at Shakertown on Tuesday night, where, according to County Attorney R. L. Black, who conducted an investigation, nearly 300 persons from surrounding counties were present.

A crowd of young Harrodsburg men found a rope, seized the negro and threatened to lynch him when cooler heads interfered. Officers brought him to a cell here for safekeeping.

Robertson's home is at Sadieville, Scott county, but he has been living with an uncle at Shakertown.

County Attorney Black said he learned that between 250 and 300 persons were at the chicken fight, which was held in the stripping room of a big tobacco barn. They came from Garrard, Madison and Jessamine counties, as well as from all over Mercer. A soft drink bar and lunch stand had been set up in the place and considerable drinking was going on it is said. The crowd was mixed, whites and negroes mingling.

Robertson said he and the negro became engaged in a trivial controversy when suddenly the negro pulled a gun and shot him through the body. The physician found that the intestines are perforated. He is at the home of his uncle, a Mr. Hambrick, who lives at "Clifton," the old Preston Neal property in the Shakertown settlement. County Attorney Black took his dying statement.

The authorities are sifting thoroughly the matter of the chicken fight.

MAKING IT HARDER TO SECURE LIQUOR

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Jan. 20.—To lessen the possibility of abuse of liquor permits, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer today directed all applications for new permits or renewals of old permits to sell liquor at wholesale or use it in the manufacture of alcoholic preparations, must be approved by state directors or supervising federal prohibition agents. Similar regulations for retail druggists will soon be issued, Kramer said.

BORAH DISARMING PLAN APPROVED

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senator Borah's resolution proposing negotiations for reduction of naval building by the United States, Great Britain and Japan was favorably reported today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It provides for such reductions as can be agreed upon. An amendment by Senator Walsh to send representatives to participate with the disarmament commission of the League of Nations was defeated eight to three on a straight party alignment.

SECRETARY WILSON UPHOLDS POST

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Jan. 20.—Secretary Wilson today defended the policy of the Department of Labor in dealing with radical aliens and completely endorsed Assistant Secretary Post's work in carrying out that policy. The statement was made in reply to an attack on Post by the executive committee of the American Legion, which requested Post's dismissal. Wilson asserted Post is a true American, with "no sympathy for any alien or American who teaches the use of force in overthrowing the government of the United States," and who, he says, fully carried out Wilson's instructions in the deportation cases. Wilson today announced that he ordered the deportation of Gregory Weinstein, Chancellor of the Russian Soviet government, in the United States.

Booze in Grapefruit

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 20.—After waiting three days to a claimant to appear for a shipment of grapefruit from Miami, Fla., federal agents here confiscated more than 200 cases of whisky concealed in the consignment. The liquor was smuggled into Miami from Cuba, the offices said.

NEWBY HIGH SCHOOL

The highly experienced artist of the famous Marie Hesson Company, of Louisville, will give her concert at the Newby High School Monday night, January 24. Solos, duets, instrumental music, an evening of rare enjoyment and laughter. Everybody come. Concert begins at 7 o'clock. 17-2

L. & N. STOPS COAL SHIPMENTS

(By Associated Press)

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 20.—The Louisville and Nashville railroad, effective today ordered suspension until further notice of all shipments of contract coal from Western Kentucky field, as a result of several mines being idle in Hopkins county alone. The reduction of output approximates 3,000 tons daily, coal men say.

TOLEDO INSTALLS SOUP HOUSES

(By Associated Press)

Toledo, O., Jan. 20.—This city prepared to install soup kitchens where thousands of Toledo's unemployed will be fed. Emergency Labor Commissioner John Cowell said Toledo is facing the most serious unemployment situation of its history. Two thousand breakfastless men appeared at a social service center today pleading for immediate work.

MORROW REFUSES BOOTLEGGER PARDON

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 20.—Governor Morrow today refused to pardon Charles Reed, of Lincoln county, convicted for having violated the local option law and fined $100 and 40 days in jail in each of four cases.

"I cannot and will not pardon any man for having violated the local option law," said the governor. "Whisky is an outlaw, defies all law and becomes only a spirit of utter evil. The Commonwealth has reached the condition where its authority to maintain law and order is being openly, persistently and brazenly challenged by the impudent, open and notorious violation of the prohibition law, by threats of the law-breakers against informers, intimidation of those opposed to the illegitimate business, and by influences coming from this business which threatens to corrupt the source of all authority."

"The violation of this law is far worse than the ordinary evils of drinks. It has become a sinister power which seeks to corrupt the law itself, to subvert the agents of law enforcement into participation and partnership in the commission and palliation of crime."

KENTUCKIANS VOTE FOR SMALL HOUSE

Washington, Jan. 20.—Two Kentuckians voted for the amendment which limits the membership and, as a result, takes from Kentucky one of her districts. They are Representative Ben Johnson, Fourth district, and Representative A. B. Rouse, Sixth district, both Democrats. Representatives Barkley, Fields, Langley, Ogden Robison, Swope and Thomas voted against the amendment.

The bill now goes to the Senate, but advocates of a larger House have no hope that the Republican Senate will provide for a larger House by amending the bill.

Only once before in history has Congress failed to increase the membership of the House following a decennial census. That was following the census of 1840, when a democratic House provided for a larger membership, and its action was overridden by the Whig Senate.

The fact that Kentucky will have but ten congressional districts after the next Congress instead of its present eleven, means that Kentucky will have to re-apportion the seats.

Unless Gov. Morrow calls a special session this cannot be done until the regular session in January, 1922. It also will mean that Kentucky will lose a vote in the electoral college.

LATE NEWS NOTES

England's idle people now number 1,000,000, and so far the government and Labor party have not reached any agreement.

Dr. Charles Welch, of Danville, in the continuation of his sermons against immorality, says mothers send their girls to dances with only four garments on—and two of these are stockings.

Dr. George Truett, of Texas, the great Baptist orator of the south, will begin a meeting in the Louisville Broadway Baptist church February 1.

Of the 600,000 school teachers in the United States 450,000 are poorly educated and are insufficient teachers, according to a statement made at the National Educational Association.

MEASURES THE STARS

(By Associated Press)

Harlan, Ky., Jan. 20.—Just before court was ready to call the case, counsel for Dr. H. C. Winnis, former state veterinarian, charged with the murder of Miss Lura Parsons, Pine Mountain settlement school teacher, filed a motion for a continuance for a week. They asserted an important witness, a guard at the convict camp near the scene of the crime last September, is absent. The state resisted the motion. The state resisted the motion. The court took the motion under advisement.

DAWES GIVES HIS VIEWS OF CABINET

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Jan. 20.—Reform in the business administration of the government by which President-elect Harding would hold departmental expenditures in co-ordinate relation to the taxable resources of the country, is advocated by Charles G. Dawes, a Chicago banker, here today. Dawes, former comptroller of the currency, asserted, "If the cabinet heads are not willing to do team work, to carry out his plan for business supervision and economy, made simply in the interest of the people of the United States as a whole he should remove them and I hope he will." A little earlier in his address he said he did not think Harding "will temporize for a moment with the old system."

GOOD REPORT ON CONFEDERATE HOME

Col. N. B. Deatherage, who is a trustee of the Confederate Home at Pewee Valley, gives the Daily Register the following report:

At a meeting of the Board of Control, held on the 5th and 6th of January, (meeting held triennially) we found the Home clear of debt, the health good, save old age and attendant infirmities; new building completed and up to date; hospital or infirmary as good as is found in Lexington or Louisville, beds for about 40 patients, 25 of them now occupied. Good nurses and attendants and the morale never better than it has been for the past year or more; less outside interference and trouble by complaints from without and within.

The recent loss of the servants' quarters by fire has been settled by the insurance companies and an ample insurance placed upon the rest of the buildings to cover any loss. But little inconvenience was caused by the burning of the servant's quarters as there is a cottage on the grounds nearby, which was unoccupied, that served all needs at the present time.

There were 30 deaths in 1919, 20 in and about 29 new admissions. At present 107 are present, 25 out on parole. It would be strange if there no infractions of the rules. The Board suspended one man indefinitely as he assaulted another inmate the second time, severely injuring him.

The Daughters of the Confederacy have agreed to furnish $1,000 or more for the hospital and have already turned in about $500. A very fine tribute to the infirm, and much appreciated by the Board of Control.

We are all living in accord and harmony and striving for the comfort and care of our fellow comrades.

Three Shot in Breathitt

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 29.—As a result of a shooting affray at Buckhorn, Breathitt county, three wounded men were brought to Lexington hospitals. The wounds of two are serious.

The wounded were Edward Tharpe, 37 years old, and Scott Tharpe, 27 years old, brothers, and "Hop" Davis, 60 years old, father-in-law of Edward Tharpe.

After Edward Tharpe had been wounded his brother rushed to his aid and was shot while attempting to wrest a revolver from Davis as asserted by Edward Tharpe.

Davis was shot three times.

Following the shooting the three men were placed on board the narrow-gauge railroad, extending from the lumber camp at Buckhorn, and after remaining all night at Quicksand were brought to Lexington over the L. & N.

Edward Tharpe and his father-in-law may not survive.

The farmers in this section are all most through stripping tobacco, getting it ready for market.

Mr. Walter Wells and his tenant, Will Chenault, colored, who has a fine lot of tobacco, report they are ready for market. Will Chenault tended 10 acres and Mr. Wells wants him again this year.

Sherman Shearer spent part of last Sunday with his neighbor, Mr. John Burton, who was rather sick but is now much better.

The people here regret very much to see Mr. John Newland and family move away.

Mrs. Sherman Shearer is expecting her niece, Elsie Shearer, of Richmond to visit her soon.

MRS. CABELL CHENAULT IS CALLED TO REWARD

Beloved Woman Succumbs to the Ravages of Dread Disease Wednesday Evening

With the death of Mrs. Ann Crutcher Chenault Wednesday night at the old Crutcher home five miles from town, another brave fight against the Grim Reaper was lost. For many years she had been a sufferer from tuberculosis and had spent some years at Tucumcari, N. M., in the hope of relief. During the past year she had gradually declined and her passing was not unexpected.

During all her illness she bore the sufferings with singular fortitude and resignation, and accepted the inevitable with a beautiful Christian spirit. Everything that loving hands and hearts could do to render her last days comfortable was done and she passed away as one who quietly falls to sleep after the day's labors are ended. She had realized for weeks that she could not rally from the attack that made her an invalid last August and told her family and pastor that she was glad to go. She was a devoted member of the Pond Christian church for many years.

Mrs. Chenault was the youngest child of William and Jane (Terry) Crutcher, both of whom died but recently at the old home. She was 47 years of age. She was married to Cabell H. Chenault in 1900. She is survived by her husband and one brother, James S. Crutcher, who resides in Richmond.

Short funeral services will be held at the grave in the Richmond cemetery Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. C. McDougle.

The pallbearers will be Messrs. C. F. Chenault, J. D. Chenault, J. E. Elmore, W. Neal Bennett, T. S. Hagan and J. C. Chenault.

XX SURE CURES

OLD JINGLESON says he can cure any disease by drinking hot water," announced the bald boarder. "He has had every disease that is officially recognized by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons and has banished them all by that simple means. "Anything becomes a curative agent if a man believes in it hard enough," said the star boarder. "Jasper Jones says he was tormented with rheumatism for ten years, and tried everything of which we read in the almanacs, and nothing did him any good until he got a horse chestnut and carried it around in his pocket. Then the rheumatism disappeared, and hasn't played a return engagement since. I have talked with Jasper often, trying to point out the folly of his claim, but he refuses to yield an inch. 'I used to have all kinds of rheumatis before I got that horse chestnut,' he says, 'and now I haven't a single one. Who would ask better proof than that?'

"And echo answers who, my dear Mrs. Jiggers. It may be that horse chestnut in the hip pocket is a specific for rheumatism. It isn't safe to denounce any theory as a false alarm.

"Fra. Grifway used to be always grumbling about his diseases, until it became unpleasant to meet him. He couldn't talk about anything else. He ignored the crops and regarded the weather with contempt, and devoted all his great energy and talents to a discussion of the things that were hurting him. Then all of a sudden he began boasting of how Hale and hearty he was. He explained that the road to health was absurdly easy, and there was no excuse for sickness anywhere. All a man had to do, he said, was to get up early in the morning, before sunrise, and draw in a hundred long breaths of the crisp morning air.

"He made the discovery himself, and it was more important than any modern invention. His sincerity is shown by the fact that there was no possible graft connected with it. A man can't sell the morning atmosphere at so much per breath. It's great discovery was free to everybody. If I were going to invent a cure for anything I'd compound something that could be put up in bottles and sold at a dollar a throw. The man who invents a fresh air cure is running benevolence into the ground.

"His cure was so cheap that I decided to try it, as I was suffering from a broken heart and a sluggish liver at that period. I set my alarm clock for an hour before sunrise, and got up in the pale, bleak dawn, and put my head out of the window to inhale the prescribed hundred breaths.

I had reached the twenty-seventh breath when a dissipated bee or wasp, on its way home from a night of revelry, stung me on the nose, and I was in such haste to put a porous plaster on that organ that I didn't finish the treatment, and never tried it again.

"But I knew many people who claimed they were cured of everything from the humps, hoof and mouth disease, by the hundred-breath treatment.

"There was a spring on my father's farm, and I doped it with sulphuric acid and a few other wholesome ingredients, and then began selling the water to the afflicted for ten cents a jug. Some marvelous cures were effected. Men hobbed there on crutches to buy the healing fluid, and when they left they threw their crutches away.

"For a brief session I had more small changes than any boy in the country, but my father returned home from a visit, and when he found out what I had been doing, he interviewed me with a hickory pole, and for a year or two I was busy paying back the money I had collected from sufferers. The people who had been healed suffered a relapse as soon as they heard the water was faked; which goes to show, Mrs. Jiggers, that we are entitled to a better quality of butter on this table."

Way of Escape.

Flatbush—"That's a funny thing about a bow-legged man.

Bensonhurst—"What's that?

"Why, when he meets a mad dog in a narrow alley he's more bow-legged than ever."

STATE AUTO LAWS ARE DRASIC

There is an innocent-looking little paper-back book containing about 32 pages which, on account of its unpretentious appearance, wouldn't ordinarily receive more than half a look, but that same little book has got teeth sufficiently long to pierce the toughest hide of any automobile operator who happens, through ignorance or otherwise, to violate the rules and regulations therein.

This little book is called "Motor Vehicles Laws of the State of Kentucky." The laws referred to in this little book were enacted by the General Assembly of Kentucky, session of 1920.

Here are a few don'ts which will spell trouble for you if you do:

No person acting for himself or another shall offer for sale or trade any automobile without then and there having in his actual physical possession the clerk's receipt for the registration fee for the current year. Penalty, not less than $10 nor more than $100 for each offense.

The same requirements are made to the buyer as for the seller of automobiles, and the same penalty attaches as to the seller.

Again: No owner shall knowingly operate or permit to be operated on a public highway an automobile upon which the brakes are defective or out of order. The same penalty as above.

Again: Who Shall Not Operate: No person under 16 years of age shall operate an automobile upon a public highway unless accompanied by the owner or some person over 21 years of age authorized by the owner, and such person or owner shall govern the operator and the movement of the automobile, and the operator shall be governed by such person or owner, provided that no person less than 14 years shall operate an automobile on a public highway at any time or under any condition. Same penalty as above.

Mitchell—Forbes

The following clipping from the Bloomington Dispatch will be read with interest by the numerous relatives of the groom here, where he made his home when a boy, and is a nephew of Mr. N. V. White and Mrs. G. W. Deatherage:

Miss Helen M. Mitchell, of Bloomington, and Neal Forbes, Leroy, were married Thursday evening at 6:30 at the Park M. E. church parsonage, Rev. L. E. Ellison officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Mitchell, 903 Ludlow street. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Forbes, of Leroy. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes will reside on a farm near Leroy.

The Courier-Journal says: Mrs. Emmett Putnam Pelfrey was host

Thursday afternoon to an informal bridge party in honor of Mrs. C. V. Scott, of Detroit, and Mrs. R. E. Miller of Richmond, who has recently come to Louisville to make her home.

Entertained At Cards

Miss Nancy Hudon entertained very informally with two tables of bridge Tuesday afternoon. Her guests included Mrs. Harris Noland, Misses Duncan Foster, Patsy Rosson, Mary Louise Deatherage, Callie Miller, Shackelford, Isabel Bennett and Amy Turley.

MADE LONG TRIP ALONE

For you who can't cross a sunburnt thing gazing helplessly at a puncture, waiting for a man to help her out? Remember that time and then look at Maud Younger, former society girl of San Francisco, now legislation chairman of the National Woman's party, who arrived in Washington after a 3,500-mile trip alone from the Pacific coast. The dog in the picture is Sandy, presented to Miss Younger on the way across the continent.

Helen Ferguson Once a Salesgirl

Helen Ferguson, a girl not yet 20, who has been playing leading parts in motion pictures for several years, has the title role of Margaret West, in "The Mutiny of the Elsinore," the Jack London story showing at the local theatres Friday, with an all star cast. It is a C. E. Shurtliff photoplay, distributed by Metro as a successor to "Burning Daylight," the first big Jack London picture.

In spite of her extreme youth and the length of her picture career, Miss Ferguson admits to many commercial accomplishments among them the operation of a printing press, a typewriter, a telephone switchboard and a piano. She has also been a salesgirl in a department store and a painter of posters.

"Slave of Vanity" Strong Drama

A smashing good story is told in "A Slave of Vanity" the Robertson-Cole super-special photoplay starring Pauline Frederick, which will be shown at the local theatres Saturday. The picture is a screen version of the brilliant drama "Iris" which was written by the famous author and playwright, Sir Arthur Wing Pinero and produced in both America and England. It is admitted by critics that this film gives Miss Frederick the best opportunity of her career to show her ability as an emotional actress.

The story is dramatic with its full share of pathos and comedy reliefs. Miss Ferguson plays the role of Iris Bellamy, a young widow whose husband stipulated in his will that she would lose every bequest he made if she remarried. She is in love with Laurence Trenwith, a poor man. Her fortune has been swept away during the absence of Trenwith who has gone out to make good her promise to wait for his return. Meanwhile, in her impoverished condition, she has become the victim of Frederick Maldonado, a wealthy London banker, who insists that she marry him.

When he returns she receives Trenwith, who now that he has established himself as a factor in the business world is eager to make her his wife. O'Day, which will be at the local theatres next Monday, can be classified as one of the pioneers in flickerland. She has been a prominent player upon the screen since 1914, starring in many well known plays. She was born in Savannah, Ga., and educated in Denver, Co. She began her stage career in 1907 with James O'Neil in "Monte Cristo."

THE "OLD RELIABLE" THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best drug I ever found for the ~~old reliable~~ ~~old~~ disease."

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Brings a Ray of Hope to Childless Women

Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old and was very irregular. If I did any house-cleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was my last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had the Sandoval Wash, and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children—I was too weak—but after taking Vegetable Compound it strengthened me so I gave birth to an eight pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they ask me what made me strong I tell them with great pleasure, 'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life.' Use this testimonial at any time."—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass.

Master Morton Gould of Richmond Hill, New York, has earned a place in the ranks of the American prodigies, for, at the age of six he has composed several selections, including a waltz which was recently published. Morton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gould, and has been playing several years. Musical critics who have heard him and his compositions, hail him as the musical prodigy of the age.

HERE'S A BIG OFFER

In order that every family in Madison and adjoining counties may be able to take a daily newspaper and keep up with the tobacco, stock and land sales in 1921, The Richmond Daily Register is making an unparalleled offer to send new subscribers in Kentucky the paper mail daily except Sunday.

ONE YEAR FOR ONLY $2.50

and one year for $3.00 if you are already a subscriber on its list and wish to renew for a year. Subscriptions out of Kentucky will remain at $4.00 a year on account of high postage rates.

Send in your subscription quick. This great offer will only be good until January 31, 1921. After that the usual rates will prevail. Paper has decreased in price a trifle, and The Daily Register has been fortunate in securing a carload at the lowest possible figure. It is willing to pass the benefit on to its subscribers as long as it lasts.

TELL YOUR FRIENDS

of this liberal offer. You can't buy a daily newspaper as cheaply anywhere,—only $2.50 a year for new subscriptions in Kentucky. No subscription taken for a shorter period than a year at these rates.

WHAT YOU GET

In addition to carrying full reports from all the important tobacco warehouses and markets, the Daily Register has the Associated Press wire and mail reports, Cincinnati and Louisville live stock markets correspondents all over this and adjoining counties and reports of farm and land sales from practically every county in this part of Kentucky.

IT IS KENTUCKY'S LIVEST COUNTRY DAILY

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE STRICTLY CASH IN ADVANCE. The paper is stopped when time for which it has been paid, expires. No deadheads are carried. Send in your money now and watch the way tobacco sells in the burley districts and how farm values are going.

$2.50 a Year for New Subscribers—$3.00 a Year for Renewals

All by prepaid mail—rates in the city of Richmond by carrier are a trifle higher. Send check, money order or cash at once to

ANNOUNCEMENT—

Having for the last three months, been remodeling our plant and equipping it with the latest and most modern machinery in every department, we wish to announce to the public that we are formally open for business again and we invite them to come during the week of and personally inspect every department and see how your work will be handled.

We have put considerable stress on family work and have three different kinds of service in this line that will suit the needs and pocket-book of every housekeeper in Richmond and Madison county.

We desire to take this opportunity to thank all of our patrons for their business during the year 1920 and hope they will continue us with their favors during the year 1921.

We will have three new services to offer you besides the former work. These are

Rug Cleaning, Wet Wash, Sock Ironing

BELOW ARE SOME OF THE MANY DEPARTMENTS

WET WASH DEPARTMENT

No Use to Buy an Expensive Washing Machine

This is an unusual feature of our laundry. In this department we wash your family bundle, returning it to you the same day, damp--leaving the ironing and drying to you. We take your complete bundle--everything which you desire to send, and wash it for you. You will find this new department not only of great benefit, but it will be more economical than washing at home, and your bundle will be handled to itself without marking. There is no use to buy an expensive washing machine when we will wash 25 pounds for $1.00 and return it to you the same day. Call and let us explain this more fully to you.

HOSIERY

The machine for this work is similar to those used at the hosiery factories and will give the original lustre to your silk hose. Also, does equally nice work on cotton and woolen hose.

CONTAINERS

We are putting your clothes up in neat packages, so when they reach you they will look just as if they came out of a store. Your soft ties, handkerchiefs, etc., will be done up in tissue paper containers.

SHIRTS AND COLLARS

Our machines for doing this work are the very latest. Your shirts and collars come to you in the package sweet and clean, done up with the nicety that pleases the most particular.

MANAGEMENT

Mr. W. W. Hicks is our efficient superintendent. He has had years and years of experience in this capacity. He was superintendent at the Danville laundry for several years, and has had experience in almost all of the laundries in Louisville.

Captain John Higgins, who for the last five years has been bookkeeper in the State Road Department at Frankfort, has charge of this office. Each and every one of our other numerous employes are experts in their line, and will give the closest attention to your work. Of course, you will want to know who will look after your bundle when it is brought to us.

ROUGH DRY DEPARTMENT

This is a step higher than the wet wash department, but along similar lines, the flat work being washed and ironed, and the wearing apparel washed and dried. Your bundle is handled to itself and the clothes are not marked as under the old system.

We will make the small charge of $2.00 for 25 pounds, which is cheaper than doing it at home.

FAMILY FINISHED DEPARTMENT

Everything is washed and ironed and sent home immediately for the small charge of 15 cents per pound. This is the last word in service, and very few laundries can offer this.

ONE-DAY SERVICE

For the benefit of the traveling men and all who for various reasons are in urgent need of their bundles, we will deliver the same day they are received.

RUG CLEANING DEPARTMENT

We have the latest and most modern shampooing machine for this work. It restores color, removes all dirt and grease, and makes your old rug look like new. If you wish, we can come right to your home and clean your rugs without removing them from the floor. Will not stir up any dust or dirt in your house. Call us and we will explain more fully about this. Besides the service in this line which we offer to the housewife, we will take special care of the hotels, barber shops, hospitals, etc., in this line, giving them one-day service.

MOUNTAIN YOUTH GIVEN HIS SIGHT

Twelve-Year-Old Boy Sees His First Street Car and Automobile

His name might be James Brown, but it isn't, and he would live in Knox county if he didn't live somewhere else. It is enough to say here that he is a mountain boy from one of the Eastern Kentucky counties who has just had a very wonderful experience and who has just gained the most priceless possession that life holds—the ability to see.

For the first twelve years of his life, James Brown—if he is to be called that—lived among his mountains, but he was unable to appreciate the height of their peaks, the beauty of their foliage in autumn and in spring, or the crystal clearness of their rushing streams. He was unable to play as other boys in his neighborhood played, unable to work as they worked. He lived in the midst of perpetual night, unable to see any object, barely able to distinguish between light and darkness.

Then came the great experience of his life. At a trachoma clinic conducted in his county by the State Board of Health, the Red Cross, the Mountain Fund, the United States Public Health Service and the County Health Officer, Miss Linda Neville saw him and pitied him in his misfortune.

His blindness was found due to cataracts rather than to trachoma and the physicians who diagnosed his case saw that the trouble could be cured by an operation. Miss Neville, who has been interested in work in the mountains for years and who now is attached to the Red Cross and to the Mountain Fund, promptly took him to Louisville, the operation was performed and today he knows the priceless joy of being able to see.

While in the city little James same his first automobile, his first street car and his first skyscraper, and now he has returned to his mountains where during the few years that remain to him of boyhood he will be able to play as a boy and where, when the time comes, he will be able to do his work as a man.

"James," his benefactress asked him when the operation had just been performed and it was first definitely known that he could see, "how did you spend last winter and how are you going to spend this winter?"

"Last winter," he replied, "I sat by the fire. This winter I'm a goin' rabbit huntin'!"

The many friends of Miss Linda will be sorry to hear that she is quite ill at her home at North Midletown.

Capt. Charles N. Fitzgerald, commander of the New York city air police, snapped while in Washington, offering his services to Prof. Robert H. Goddard, who is planning to shoot a ball to the moon. Captain Fitzgerald, who is known as a daredevil, is willing to be inclosed in the huge ball, which will make the long journey. Professor Goddard was formerly with the Smithsonian Institute, but is now devoting his entire time to the completion of the "Moon trip" cannon and ball.
